

“The Caterpillar” celebrates the everchanging culture and innovative spirit of Silicon Valley. This landmark is the “gateway to the future” as a symbol of change, creativity, and innovation. The design evokes this by creating an everchanging experience that varies depending on the perspective and angle it is seen from. This Net Zero Icon stands at 200 feet tall and spans from east to west of the site over the Guadalupe River, respecting the existing nature on the park and the riparian corridor, while creating active anchors allowing visitors to experience a gondola ride with panoramic views.
