

Tower of Windows, manifests the fact that San Jose is a gateway to opportunities and each window can lead you to a great life. Every window is lined with inward looking LEDs that light up the frosted glass and sunlight can come through the windows during the day. The interior of the tower has a dreamy quality with the light being diffused by the blue reflective coating and it will be a great surprise for all. White solar panels will be installed on the south side to achieve the net-zero energy requirement.