

OCTO8 is an iconic suspended octahedron comprising armature/skeleton, skin and inner space. Like a large useful sculpture, it is borne of mathematics and geometry paying tribute to the genesis of Silicon Valley and the number eight.

HoloDeck at the core is intended for use by tech community of Silicon Valley,

4 landside octahedrons and the main octahedron provide 40 planes/screens for projecting on/from. Blank canvases for multimedia creative technologies. The structures are anchors for adaptive use - now and into the future.

“Nature wall” separates human activity and night light from the riparian corridor.
