

The Cloud is an urban fun palace that celebrates the vibrant culture of innovation of the Silicon Valley. Growing along Highway 87, the Cloud establishes an iconic presence while resembling a cluster of ever-evolving cloud in nature. With multiple access from the park, the Cloud brings the public from the ground to an elevated platform which acts as a meaningful public space. The Cloud is conceived as an education hub for sustainability. Part of the platform is covered by canopies clad with PV panels which also collect rainwater for reuse, ensuring a net-zero energy landmark of the 21st century.
