

Proposed design derives from the eternal symbols combined to represent the uniqueness of the Silicon Valley. Silica is the primary compound of glass. Arched structure is made of solid glass blocks. From a distance it is recognizable as a gate. As it spans over river confluence point it becomes a bridge. Series of ramps allows ascend and crossing, creating iconic lively place. Paths through the area are enhanced with organically flowing design. Areas around the site can be used for various events. Whole structure is illuminated by lights integrated in the transparent glass structure, programmable for any desirable scenario.
