

Silicon Valley is a combination of corporations in the field of information technologies. The valley has great social, political, economic and psychological impact. It gives great power and responsibility at the same time. Knowledge of the past will allow avoid its mistakes in the future, because human history shows that life is cyclical. Therefore, the function of the new Silicon Valley landmark is a multifunctional center of the human history and the future information technologies.