

Meaning a near impossibility, a visionary project, “Castle in the air” in this context means to inherit and promote the very spirit of Silicon Valley, the destination where people and ideas have gathered in great diversity. Generous playgrounds are to make San Jose a stronger community. Bridges are to connect people from any directions. Then, together everything gathers and shares under the same light. The landmark is a playful harmony at day and a vibrant play of light at night. Though the landmark encompasses a wide range of values, at its core, it is the symbol of diversity, unity, and dream.
