

PROJECT SUMMARY

The concept of Silicon Valley's landmark design is to create a statue with image of human HEAD/BRAIN that reflecting the legacy of this global center of life-changing thought, celebrating people's intelligence, and embracing the theme of INNOVATION.

The statue is formed by using the model of "silicon crystal structure" as elements of structure framing. Various lighting pattern related to the theme may show extraordinary night effects.

The proposed project is located in the west side. The visual features of "integrated circuit board" are used in site planning to create the landscape design with a sense of technology theme.
