

Organograph is an iconic artwork proposed for the Urban Confluence competition in San Jose, CA.

Organograph is at-once a unique and stunning icon for Silicon Valley, a kinetic sculpture, a blossoming flower, a climate-change call-to-action, a clock, and a community congregation hub for civic activity and cross pollination.

At its heart, Organograph serves as a call to action on climate change, illustrating the challenges of our dependence on fossil fuels, and elucidating the dynamics of the Earth's carbon cycle. Organograph serves as a beacon of hope and call for change, for the people of Silicon Valley and the entire world.
