

COCOON: A Microcosm Manifesto of Disruptive Urban Metamorphosis

Cities and Urban Spaces have become Redundant. A built form lacking leadership and no longer Consequential. The era of Industrial Revolution 4.0 (IR4.0) offers much more potential to our Built Fabric and Urban Spaces. IR 4.0 demands the integration of the built form with Nature and Technology for Urban Spaces of the Future. We perceive a combination of Built Form, Technology and Nature in a wholesome trinity to lead us into the discovery of A Microcosm Manifesto of Disruptive Urban Metamorphosis. Cocoon is a catalyst for Homogenous Spatial Empathic Urban Metamorphosis of the region, offering a multitude of vistas and viewing corridors to the City and its wondrous Natural Environment.

We propose to the people of Silicon Valley, the Genesis of an Ecosystem of History, Urban Art, Urban Greens, Natures Landforms, Human Engineering and Urban Sustainability.
