

Urban Confluence Design Competition

Project Summary

Design Inspiration was born out of name “Silicon Valley” and 3-D molecule became central theme of design process.

Design Intent is maximum preservation of environment and minimum structure pad footprint, becoming destination point for travelers and a place for local community gatherings.

Design Process ended with structure defined by nature of the site-specific constraints. Plan silhouette is shape of a tree representing life and sustainability while structure represents technology.

Activation Strategies include: Art Gallery, Gift Shops, Museum of Technology and Science, Restaurant(s), and Lighting Design themed for Special Events and New Year Celebrations.
