

SUMMARY

My design resembles a location pin with much more detail and offers beautifully cultural and tech-based patterns, illumination sensors, exotic plants, a dome shaped rooftop with robots engaging with people, indoor amenities with sections and venues for different interests, and more. The outer parts of the pinpoint will have lighting and illumination on the sides during the day and slowly dim as the sun sets to prevent any disturbance to the environment or wildlife. As a prominent icon in the information age, the location pin may help people finally know the way to San Jose.
