

Silicon Valley is not just a place where high technology is born, it is symbolized with the World 's aspiration for new horizons. Our proposal is the Stone Hedge of our time, a sacral structure where people begin to believe in a miracle. The perfect silicon cube, a huge processor, is floating in the sky, showing the desire for a discovery. At the very top, under the open star sky people can transfer to another planet. Live translation of the red Mars landscape shows that humanity 's dreams may be closer than they seem. Si SpaceCUBE – one sky, different worlds.
