

French startups and venture capital on record track in 2021

November 2021

Why this report

2021 has been the most active year ever for startup investment and venture activity, but it has also been the most international.

The last 18 months has shown that startups can be built and scaled anywhere, and that investors are more comfortable than ever doing deals entirely remotely.

Europe remains a vibrant entrepreneurial ecosystem, and one of its leading startup nations has once again posted record figures.

France has raised record funding in 2021, it has overtaken the Netherlands and Sweden for number of unicorns created, and is increasingly attracting the attention of the international tech community.

This report builds on La French Tech's open access ecosystem database, powered by Dealroom proprietary database to look under the hood of the French tech ecosystem in 2021.

“La French Tech has reached a new milestone in 2021.

The French ecosystem has recorded record growth in investments in all segments, with hyper growth in rounds exceeding € 100M. But there remains challenges ahead.

The first is to be able to continue to grow this ecosystem in order for France to establish itself as the main European destination [for tech investment]. The second relates to the necessary acceleration of exits, which will sustain the virtuous nature of this investment cycle.

“The French ecosystem is finally attracting the means to match its ambitions.

In 2021, investments in French startups will exceed €10b. This is twice the amount raised last year. Our entrepreneurs are largely to thank for this success: they worked tirelessly to grow their business ideas. These efforts are also supported by policies introduced in the last few years, to support the growth and competitiveness of our ecosystem.

Foreign investors play an increasingly important role in the French ecosystem. Year-to-date, 60% of funds raised by French startups have come from abroad.

Foreign investors are very active in late-stage funding rounds, but domestic investors still dominate at early-stages.

“Investors have realized that there was no longer any real challenge preventing the growth of industrial & deeptech startups in France.

Thanks to its talent pool and highly supportive innovation policies, France now appears as a land of opportunities to numerous eyes. We expect late-stage activity from foreign investors to further increase in France and in Europe in the upcoming years.

“As the French tech ecosystem matures and VCs need liquidity, the exit sector is increasingly dynamic.”

In 2021, there were around 300 deals for a total $7.5bn in deal value, being the best year ever for tech exits in France. But tech companies are confronted with a valuation gap when exiting; our research shows median exit multiples tend to be lower than median fundraising multiples all across the board.

Senior Analyst, Avolta Partners

“When it comes to funding, the gap between Paris and other parts of the country remains significant: French regions are home to over 70% of new startups but only attract 50% of investments.

That said, success stories are emerging right across French regions: Montpellier’s Swile reached unicorn status this year, and Rennes’ Leocare recently raised €100m. On December 6th, 82 startups selected by our network of French Tech Capitals and Communities, will attend the first edition of French Tech Rise, an event designed to bring them closer to potential investors.”

Methodology & definitions

Startups & venture capital

This report focuses on companies in the internet age, i.e. after 2000. Most but not all unicorns are VC backed.

Companies included in the analysis are tech-driven. Industries include software, ecommerce, online marketplaces, hardware, ICT infrastructure. The full industry & business model taxonomy can be found online

Investment numbers refer to venture capital investment rounds such as seed, series A, B, C, late stage, and growth equity rounds. It excludes debt or other non-equity funding, lending capital, grants and ICOs. Buyouts, M&A, secondary rounds, and IPOs are treated as exits: excluded from funding data, but included in exit data.

Unicorns

A unicorn is defined as a tech-driven company that has reached a $1 billion valuation, on the basis of a funding round (unrealised), acquisition or IPO (realised).

There are some notable edge-cases:

- Companies that IPO-ed at or above $1 billion but subsequently dipped below that valuation, are still included as $1B+ exit (examples: Alfa, Rovio, eDreams).
- Some companies have at some stage reached a $1 billion but subsequently raised, IPO-ed or were acquired below that value. In this case the company is not counted as a unicorn (examples: Blippar, Home24, Fanduel, Ulmart, Conduit, Wonga, VE Interactive, Powa).
- If a unicorn moved HQ, the company is counted in the country where it reached unicorn status. Occasionally companies received dual HQ status.
