² The standard insurance amount is $250,000, per insured bank. More information can be found at www.fdic.gov/deposit/deposits/

³ See the Cash Program Disclosure Statement and Custody Agreement for details and restrictions.

⁴ High Yield Cash deposits are not eligible for 'householding' of platform fees.

How Extended FDIC Insurance Works

Backed by the full faith and credit of the US government, FDIC protects against loss of deposits if an FDIC-insured bank or savings association fails, by providing insurance up to $250,000 per depositor and per insured bank, for each account ownership category.

FDIC-insured banks are selected based on stringent criteria including their overall financial health, stability and current standing with the FDIC.
