In order to diversify the tech industry, we realized there needed to be a program that was completely beginner-friendly, wouldn't result in student debt, and wouldn't require any payment back. Many bootcamps cost thousands of dollars; or worse, require a cut of graduates' salaries after they land a job. With Techdegree, you'll get high-quality courses, robust learning support, and career knowledge, at a fraction of the cost of bootcamps. Treehouse's Techdegree program is a structured, self-paced, online learning program that's designed to give you entry-level job skills as a PHP programmer in as little as 3 months. As a PHP programmer, you'll build web applications that retrieve and store information in databases and
