

HOW TO SAVE MONEY ON MATERIAL HANDLING

Know your shipment date.

Your shipping date is the tipping point of any project. The entire production cycle revolves on this date, so it's extremely important to remain on schedule.

Remain on-time.

To ensure on-time delivery, the production cycle must be started at the proper time. From the start of your project, it is critical to establish a production cycle schedule with strict deadlines to adhere to, including those for:

- Raw material procurement
- Booth build date
- Client preview
- Packing time
- Shipment from facility

Utilize our Logistics Director

Our dedicated Logistics Director brings extensive industry experience and assurance that your property is on-time and on-budget. Their expertise can lead to money savings in areas you hadn't considered. They've coordinated shipments to venues all over the world, and know each venue like the back of their hand. They know what to account for and how to tackle each unique shipment, saving you a major headache.