ADMISSIONS

- Oregon, 1999

With nearly 20 years practicing in all areas of business and commercial litigation, Heather Harriman now serves as Of Counsel at the Rose Law Firm and is also the Firm's project manager, team leader and mentor.

Heather's practice currently focuses on business litigation, business "divorce," probate and trust litigation and contract disputes. She is an experienced litigator and trial lawyer skilled at resolving all types of business and commercial disputes, having tried a multitude of cases in state and federal courts throughout Oregon and Washington. Believing that a holistic approach to client issues is paramount, Heather regularly helps her clients navigate complex business and corporate matters, deal with corporate control and transition events, make difficult business decisions and find the right professionals to meet their financial, accounting and tax needs.

Heather's previous experience includes complex business disputes, contract disputes, evictions, collections, foreclosures, tax controversies, bankruptcy, and Creditor's Rights law.

Heather brings a unique skillset to the firm, providing superior client service, plus effective and efficient business solutions for the firm and its clients.

Heather is adept at leading cross-functional teams of accountants, lawyers, consultants and business owners as well as the attorneys and other staff both within and outside the firm, managing time-sensitive projects and seeing the big picture.

In 2012 and 2014, Heather was recognized by Super Lawyers of Oregon magazine as a "Rising Star." She has published articles and presented on various legal issues including tax, bankruptcy and creditors' rights.
