CASE STUDY

Benefits Management Framework

NSW Higher Education Client

The Challenge

A leading Australian NSW University, which had embarked on a $50 M Transformation program, was not confident that the benefits as defined in the initial business case, had been properly defined and were being tracked and managed to the level needed.

As a trusted Project delivery partner, MetaPM was engaged review, validate and re-baseline the Program benefits and develop a more robust Benefits management framework, which could be applied to other projects and programs across the University.

MetaPM's Approach

MetaPM took a pragmatic approach to deliver this engagement utilising its extensive experience in designing, implementing and adoption of Benefits realisation frameworks. Utilising our experience and IP MetaPM recommended a 3 phased approach, with mutually agreed review points at appropriate junctures of the engagement to ensure alignment.

Phase 1

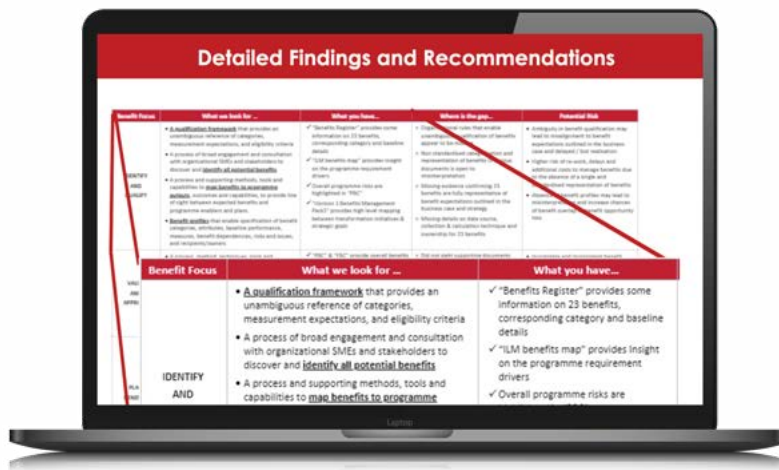

Desktop current state analysis and stakeholder interviews, to understand the maturity of the current environment and capabilities around benefits management.

Phase 2

Design and develop a fit-for-purpose benefits framework and proposed implementation plan.

Phase 3

Roll out of the framework across the Program, including the Change Management aspects

The Results

MetaPM successfully developed and implemented a re-usable and scalable Benefits Management Framework and set of tools and templates which included;

1

High level Benefits Framework (Leveraging existing MetaPM IP and industry frameworks and standards)

2

Benefits Management Strategy and Guidelines

3

Benefits Management Framework
artefacts

4

Detailed Implementation and Change Management Plan

5

Benefits Management Framework implemented across in-scope projects
