

IPC ANALYZER LIBRARY MAXIMIZE AVIATION PARTS & PROFITS

- Leverage insights from nose to tail, for airplanes as well as engines
- Indispensable solution for MROs, distributors, government agencies and brokers

BENEFITS

By airframe, engine or part, ILS IPC Analyzer provides research and insight from nose to tail that illustrates:

- Demand – broken down by End User or Non-End User as well as regionally, know the number of searches conducted in a given timeframe for a specific part number
- Supply – broken down by type of user, condition and region, know the number of suppliers listing a specific part number or capability as well as quantity listed in a given timeframe
- Fair Market Value – our proprietary algorithm can provide a Fair Market Price point per part number, pricing spread, along with confidence level, based on gathered data
- Aircraft Applicability – know whether a part has cross-model applicability in Airbus, Embraer, Boeing, or Bombardier, and which older parts still have relevancy on newer models
- Repairables – quickly sift through thousands of parts to find those repairables most demanded and most valued
- ATA Groups and ATA Chapters – search and group parts easily by ATA chapter
- Up-to-date Information – subscribe to IPC analyzer Library and benefit from the latest market data with additional airframe and engine models constantly added

/ FIND WHAT YOU NEED DETERMINE THE RIGHT SUM OF PARTS FOR BEST PROFIT

Search our IPC libraries by part catalog, part numbers and applicability, by ATA chapters, price, and other critical information for the aviation aftermarket industry, to determine what combination of airframe and/or engine parts can deliver the most profit to your business. Use the power of ILS market intelligence to browse through hundreds of thousands of parts to find those repairables most demanded and most valued. Maximize your insights by understanding whether a part has cross-model applicability in Airbus, Embraer, Boeing, or Bombardier, and which older parts still have relevancy on newer models, so you can focus on the most versatile parts.

/ SELL WHAT YOU HAVE MARKET AND SELL YOUR INVENTORY

Expand your reach to global customers. Promote your parts and equipment by accessing a highly targeted market of motivated buyers. Increase inventory visibility to commercial purchasers as well as government agencies and find buyers that match your inventory and capabilities. Automate quote processing, access AOG and “wanted” message broadcasts. Keep listings up-to-the-minute accurate, and move inventory with online auctions, complemented with targeted digital advertising options from our marketing portfolio.
