

Data security and compliance – simplified

Data sprawl. Multiple data types stored in a range of on-premise, in-cloud and SaaS locations. Laws and data security requirements to protect individuals. Data subject access requests (DSARs).

All these challenges make guaranteeing and enforcing data compliance complex and costly. Looking after your data can be a full-time operational headache. Nephos's SmartData Governance to the rescue!

Bringing Data Science to Data Governance

Nephos SmartData Governance is a managed service that enables companies to focus on policy creation, rather than worry about the operational problems of enforcement.

This service provides a turn-key solution to protect all your data no matter its type or where it resides.

You will have the peace of mind to focus on business enablement, rather than worrying about data loss, compliance problems or DSARs.

Data security blanket

Nephos will deliver your data governance and security policies through our SmartData Governance managed service. So enabling your team to get back to focussing on creating security policies rather than operationally enforcing them. Our service, can go from completely non-disruptive to in-line, zero trust, protection depending on what you want to deliver from the service.

Management data view

As well as the operational management of the service we provide a centralised view so that you can gain a quick look into your security standing within seconds. Nephos also provides monthly reports to highlight any potential problems that need discussing or suggested changes to your policies.

“Our SmartData Governance service wraps our customers’ data in a security blanket – enabling them to focus on policies, not technologies.

It also gives them access to a significant amount of expertise and technology that they wouldn't have in-house, at a fraction of the cost.”
