Help I can't log in!

If you enter your details incorrectly 5 times you will be temporarily locked out of your account for security purposes, but don't worry you can reset your password – see below.

How to reset your password

STEP 1: If you have entered your details incorrectly and have been logged out of your account, or if you have forgotten the details you used originally then you will need to reset your password.

STEP 2: Enter the email address you would like your new password to be sent to.
