

After becoming a follower of Jesus, Murat and his wife were driven from their home in Central Asia by the Muslim government to a nearby country. His family faithfully served the Lord in planting churches among his displaced people. Last year, the Lord began speaking to him about the even less reached Muslim groups of Russia. God miraculously provided for him to go to Dagestan, where doors opened for him among the Nogai people.

For years, a Global Teams' partner church has been praying for the Nogai. And now, through a number of relationships, Murat and Global Teams have connected to find ways to place workers among the least reached of the North Caucasus. Murat and his family are committed to relocating among the Nogai by year's end, and Global Teams is committed not only to helping him get there, but to seeing more laborers raised up from the former Soviet Union.

The unreached need more harvest hands, and Jesus commanded His followers to pray for them (Luke 10:2). The foundation for breakthrough among the least reached is prayer and because we are responding to the Messiah's specific prayer request we have confidence that our prayers are being answered.

On a different continent, Global Teams Africa leaders poured over data on the least reached in East Africa, committing to mobilizing laborers for new frontiers. As these prayerful conversations progressed, God began to highlight groups and places for prayer, including the Nahara of Mozambique. Last month, a senior Global Teams Africa leader felt the Lord stirring up a dormant vision for reaching the Nahara. He agreed to take a survey trip to Mozambique to define entry points among this Muslim people group. At the same time, back in the United States, another Global Teams' partner church agreed to adopt the Nahara.

more prayer = more laborers

Both of these people groups are new opportunities for Global Teams, demonstrating God is answering our prayers in keeping with Jesus' request! In the next few months, both pioneering works will be launched and we need your financial partnership in addition to your prayers.

AN ANSWER TO 30 DAYS OF PRAYER

We asked you to pray for Muslims during Ramadan. Here's an answer to prayer:

One Global Teams' worker took part in three community iftar meals and befriended a Muslim leader who was recently elected as mayor of the town. The new mayor asked him to be his chaplain throughout his term in office.
