

Let's Plan For Your Showing

Do

Conduct your health check electronically the day of the showing. Be honest, for me and for you.

Bring a mask and hand sanitizer to your tour. Let us know if you don't have supplies in advance so we can help for the showing!

Be respectful of social distancing during your tour.

Look but don't touch. We've asked the current resident to make the place ready for you to see all there is to see!

Bring a tape measure to take critical measurements for your couch and art. If you don't have one but want exact measurements, please just ask!

Don't

Attend a showing when you feel sick. We can reschedule!

Bring extra people to your showing. Unfortunately, we can only accommodate people who are going to live in the unit. (Mom can see it later!)

We're skipping the handshakes and hugs right now. Let's keep some space between us.

Touch anything that doesn't belong to you. Treat this tour like you're in a museum.

We're all about first impressions! Don't expect a return visit. We can only show you the unit once for now.
